—The Gordonsville, Va., Gazette owned by the Piedmont Publishing Company, of which Mr. Jas. B. Canfield is editor and half owner is advertised to be sold at trustee's sale, August 5th to satisfy a trust deed executed by said company.

—We noticed while in Huntersville Monday that some improvements are going on. Attorney L. M. McClintic has had a new pailing fence built around his lot. A. B. McComb's new house finished. The new building which was occupied by THE TIMES before its removal, and which is used as an annex to the Loury & Doyle hotel is new and nicely painted.

—We understand that the County Court, has accepted the proposition of the Pocahontas Development Co., which we spoke of a few weeks ago—that the Company would build a suitable building at this place, in which to hold Court in until the new Court House can be built. The general manager of the Company, Mr. F. M. Durbin informs us that the building will be commenced as soon as the material can be secured, and that it will be completed and the records moved in time to hold our next Circuit Court, which is in October.

This is Hard on Carnegie.

Philadelphia, July 9—At a mass meeting of the American Federation of Labor Congressmen Jerry Simpson said that the introduction of the Pinkertons into the State came under the head of high treason, and they with Carnegie, should be tried and hung for murder. The law of right is higher than human law.

Murder.

WESTON, W. VA., July 4.—Michael Tierney, brother to the proprietor of the Commercial Hotel in this city was murdered in cold blood here this afternoon by a negro named Edgar Jones. Jones entered the kitchen of the hotel in an intoxicated condition and was ordered out by Mr. Tierney. He at first refused to go, but apparently changed his mind and started to leave, when he suddenly turned on Tierney and drove a pocket knife into his body. Tierney only lived 30 minutes.

Jones was arrested and is now in Jail. Feeling is very high here to night, threats are being made of lynching the murderer and it is not improbable but that this will be done before morning although the Jail is strongly guarded. Tierney was well and popularly known throughout the State and his murder right in the prime of manhood is causing great excitement among his friends and acquaintances. Fortunately he lived long enough after he was cut to receive extreme unction which was given him by Rev. Father Tracy.

WESTON, W. VA., July 6—At two o'clock this morning, a mob took Jones from the Jail and lynched him.

Murder of Mr. J. G. Leach.

On the night of July 3rd, near his brother's home at Goshen Bridge, J. Grandville Leach, a very wealthy man and one of the leading citizens of Rockbridge county, was brutally murdered by parties unknown. The Sheriff and Commonwealth's attorney were summoned at once, but as yet the slightest clue has not been found. It seems that murder was the sole aim of the assassin, for his watch and about twelve dollars remained on his person untouched.

Terrific Explosion.

San Francisco, July 9—There was a terrific explosion at the Giant and Judson Powder Works near Berkeley, shortly after 9 o'clock this morning. Five shocks were felt in this city within a few minutes, the last four being of terrific force, shaking the building and cracking a number of walls and breaking plate-glass in building eight blocks up from the water front. The Giant Powder Works were completely destroyed. One hundred and eighty men, chiefly Chinese, were employed there and nearly all were killed.

Robbery of the Postoffice.

One of the most daring crimes ever perpetrated in this section, occurred on Monday night last, at the post office of this place. The office is situated next to the residence of the postmaster, Mr. G. T. McClintic, and immediately adjoining it. An entry was effected into it shortly after twelve o'clock by a gang of burglars and almost everything of value therein was stolen, amounting in the aggregation to something over $800. A window in the rear of the office was broken and a stick removed from over the window so as to effect an entrance, and all the doors were left open when the burglars took their departure. The appearance of the office showed that a thorough search had been made for other valuables, and that some time must have been spent there by the thieves. A chisel, a monkey wrench and a brace were found on the floor near the safe. These were identified as the property of E. M. Nettleton & Co., by Mr. Robert Hay. The combination of the safe was broken and valuable contents appropriated.

There are several peculiar things about this robbery which may prove a clue to lead to the guilty parties. The window was broken and so small a hole was made as to make it almost impossible for a large hand to enter and remove the stick. This is so tightly fitted as to render its removal almost impossible from the outside, even for proper tools, so difficult in fact as to suggest that the entrance was effected some other way and the window broken as a blind. The theft of the tools from E. M. Nettleton & Co., suggests a local thief, but the work on the safe seems to be that of an expert, the first two numbers of the combination having been worked and the lock then broken with the wrench. Candles were used instead of traditional burglar light—the dark lantern—tallow was dripped all over the safe and floor. The general appearance seems to indicate a professional, and the thorough search of the office an old hand at the business who was not nervous and knew where valuables were usually kept. A gang of burglars have recently been operating in the postoffices of the State and it is believed that they are the guilty parties in this case.

The Trouble at Homestead.

For some time there has been trouble between the Carnegie Iron and Steel Company, of Homestead, Pa., and their workmen, growing out of a cut, in the wages, of about twenty per cent. attempted to be made by the Company. The men refused to accede to the demand of the Company and the works were shut down. A few days ago the Sheriff of Alleghany county was appealed to by the managers of the Company for protection, and he went to Homestead which is about eight miles from Pittsburg, and conferred with the strikers. He was treated kindly but was informed that he would not be permitted to place any guards over the Company's property unless the strikers were permitted to do guard duty, which they agreed to do and to give security that all property of the Company would be safely kept. This the Sheriff could not agree to and he returned to Pittsburg. Later he sent eleven deputies who attempted to enter the works of the Company when they were firmly but kindly run out oftown. This happened on Tuesday.

Early Wednesday morning between four and five o'clock two barges containing about 300 of Pinkerton's detectives attempted to land at Homestead and take possession of the works. The strikers were made aware of this attempt and met the detectives at the river bank and a deadly battle ensued. The officers were driven back to the barges and the fight lasted all day Wednesday. The officers were driven back to the barges and the fight lasted all day Wednesday. The detectives surrendered late in the evening, and were escorted through the town by the mob, when they were treated to all manner of incivilities and were brutally handled. One man had his eye knocked out by an umbrella in the hands of a woman. During the fight about thirty men were killed and nearly double that number seriously wounded. The scenes during the day were horrible beyond description and it will be some time before peace will reign. It is hoped that there will be no more bloodshed, but that is uncertain.

Tammany's celebration on the 4th of the one hundred and sixteenth anniversary of American independence brought out some interesting statements. Mr. Cleveland's letter was full of sound doctrine. After it was read the letter of Senator Hill, in which this statesman makes his first public announcement of his attitude toward the Cleveland-Stevenson ticket. It is an attitude of loyalty. "The democracy of New York," he says, "in the approaching struggle should present a solid front to the common enemy. Loyalty to cardinal democratic principles is the supreme duty of the hour." In the course of the "long talks" and "short talks" there were references to Mr. Cleveland, which invariably brought down the house. Sometimes the audience "broke loose" and cheered the head of the ticket before his name could be mentioned. With all factions and leaders in New York pulling one way there ought to be no doubt of the result.—Bat. Sun.

Notice.

Owing to the indiscriminate cutting and taking of timber, wood, and rails for burning and other purposes by some persons on and from the lands of the Pocahontas Development Company—often taking that which the company wishes to preserve for its own use—notice is hereby given that on and after this date no timber or wood must be cut, nor wood and rails taken on or from the company's premises without the written permission of the Manager in charge. A violation of this notice will be regarded as a trespass.

To supply the wants of the people the company will have cut at once and piled into cordwood in convenient places on its premises an abundance thereof, and offer the same to the public at a price slightly in advance of the cost of cutting the same.
